

2023 Music

If you are looking for something new to expand your music playlist, or if your fave artist dropped a new single, here are some recommendations.

- Red Moon in Venus by Kali Chis dropped March 3.

If you are looking for calming music, then you should definitely check it out.

- Gloria by Sam Smith dropped Jan. 27.

I know everyone knows his songs. In 2014 we used to sing them all the time, so I know y'all love his album.

- Utopia by Travis Scott will drop June of 2023.

Travis is very popular, and may be your fave artist. I just know he would come out with some new bangers. Everyone will be adding it to their playlist this coming June.

- My 21st Century Blues by Raye dropped Feb. 3.

Raye went viral for the song on TikTok named 'Escapism,' and if you like that song, I know you would love her latest album.
